West Berliners Scream Hatred at Communist Wall

BERLIN (AP) — Border guards fought a fierce tear gas battle today as massed West Berliners screamed their hatred of the red wall on its first anniversary.

The battle erupted in the Wilhelmstrasse, opposite the former Nazi air ministry. It is now the seat of several East German government ministries.

East German police shot a stream of water from a water cannon at West Berlin youths carrying a wooden cross along the wall.

Enraged West Berliners then hurled stones at the water cannon.

Eastern guards then tossed tear gas grenades into the thickly massed crowd.

West police immediately threw about 150 tear gas grenades over the wall. They fell all around two water cannons, which were enveloped in a thick cloud of gas and withdrew about 30 yards. The choking crews had to get out for fresh air.

Western police were soaking the cross.

A company of 100 West riot police was rushed to the scene. There were about 80 Eastern police—Vopos—massed on the other side of the wall.

East Berliners tried to join in the demonstration. But Communist police kept them back. About 100 persons were seen being pushed back to the Unter den Linden and Wilhelmstrasse, in East Berlin.

Windows in buildings on the east side of the border were flung open as persons inside listened to the Western outcries of anger but Communist officials quickly shut the windows.

The din along the wall was tremendous.

The Communists brought up loudspeakers blaring martial music in an attempt to drown out the shouts from the West.

Western police said they heard the rumble of tanks in East Berlin and saw truckloads of steel-helmeted troops being deployed on streets leading to the wall.

The Western reinforcements were ordered up after thousands of booing, shouting persons massed along the wall.

At least 15,000 West Berliners were at various points on the wall, witnesses estimated.

Traffic and work had halted for three minutes in West Berlin to mark the anniversary.

What was planned by authorities as a quiet observance of the anniversary erupted into a noisy demonstration. At the Friedrichstrasse, West Berlin motorists blew their horns for 50 minutes.

People streamed to the wall. They shook their fists, shouted in chorus and waved to any East Berliners they could see.

They booed some Soviet soldiers in a Red army car caught in the stalled traffic.

The crowd hurled insults at four Soviet staff cars driving to Friedrichstrasse.

Congress Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Commerce Director Robert T. Secrest said today there was a "hefty possibility" he might resign to run for Congress from the 15th District in southeastern Ohio.

A vacancy on the ballot resulted from the withdrawal Saturday of William W. Ricker, Democratic candidate of Marietta. Party leaders expect to fill the vacancy at a meeting tonight in Zanesville.

As a candidate, Secrest would oppose Rep. Tom V. Moorehead of Zanesville, Republican incumbent.

Secrest previously asserted he was "too old" to seek the post he formerly held for eight terms. Secrest is 58; Moorehead 64.

Secrest explained his change of mind by saying he feels better now than when he recently wound up a seven-year term on the Federal Trade Commission.

16-Year-Old Girl Killed in Fayette Crash

A 16-year-old Pickaway County girl was killed early yesterday in a one-car crash in Fayette County, about 14 miles north of Washington, C. H.

Dead is Joan Buzzard, Era. Her parents' names were not available. She was a passenger in an auto driven by William Richard Dunn, 26, Route 1, Mt. Sterling.

Two other passengers were injured in the accident. They were: Connie Rice, 15, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, who sustained scalp lacerations; and Fred Hill, 22, treated for a fractured right wrist. All were treated at Fayette Memorial Hospital, Washington, C. H.

According to Fayette County Deputies, the Buzzard girl was thrown from the vehicle, which in turn, rolled on top of her crushing her body.

Dunn, driver of the car, is being charged with reckless operation.

Soblen Case Heads For Courts Again

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen's attorneys go to Britain's high court again Tuesday for another legal attempt to save the fugitive spy from the life sentence waiting for him in the United States.

The lawyers for the 61-year-old psychiatrist said they would ask the court for Soblen's release on a writ of habeas corpus and challenge the order Home Secretary Henry Brooke issued Saturday for Soblen's deportation to the United States.

Brooke issued the deportation order after repeated frustration of British government attempts to send Soblen to New York by El Al, the Israeli government-owned airline which landed Soblen in Britain July 1. The Israeli government, under severe political pressure at home, said it would take Soblen out of Britain but it would only take him to Israel, not to the United States.

Among those on the reviewing stand will be Lt. Gov. John W. Donahy, to formally welcome the returned servicemen, who will revert to National Guard status.

New Insurance Rates Levied Against Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New fire insurance rates went into effect today on specifically rated buildings generally throughout Ohio.

The state insurance department said the changes applied to companies belonging to the Ohio Insurance Bureau, an independent group, and included most firms operating in the state.

The rates on new policies and renewals were increased for most businesses and factories and decreased for most public buildings and schools.

Increases ranged from 15 to 20 per cent on buildings and 10 per cent on contents for commercial establishments in brick of fire-resistant buildings. Rates on frame commercial buildings within three miles of an approved fire department were cut.

The commercial increases applied mainly to rates published by the bureau after Aug. 27, 1951. Rates on public and educational buildings published between Aug. 27, 1951, and Dec. 20, 1959, and a few after the latter date, were affected.

Rate changes did not apply to churches, apartments, buildings used for both business and residential purposes, greenhouses, lumber yards and grain elevators.

Board Rules Against Levy For Hospital

The Pickaway County Board of Commissioners today ruled against placing a Berger Hospital building levy on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Taking the stand that real estate taxation has reached a limit here, the Commissioners said efforts should be made to obtain necessary funds elsewhere. A motion not to place the levy on the ballot was presented by Lloyd Melvin.

The motion was seconded by Clyde Michel and Chairman Charles Morris made it a unanimous decision with an affirmative vote.

The resolution, calling for a 1½ mill levy for a proposed building program at the hospital, was submitted to the Commission on July 30 by Berger's Board of Governors.

THE LEVY, in excess of the 10-mill limitation, was designed to run for a period of five years. The money would have been used for permanent improvement of Berger Hospital, and for the reconstruction, enlargement and extensions necessary as provided by the Revised Code of Ohio.

The proposal would have provided approximately $180,000 per year for a five-year period toward the proposed building program. These figures are based on the county's approximate $120 million tax duplicate.

All three Commissioners joined today in saying that "taxes in Pickaway County already are too high." They indicated that a 1½ mill levy would be too high at this time.

The Commission also indicated that funds in a present hospital building fund could be utilized, with possible aid through matching funds.

Some Church Doors Shut On Negroes

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Singly or in small groups, Negroes tried churches in this racially troubled city but only one got past the doors on an otherwise relaxed Sabbath.

A Negro woman, Doris Derby, 22, was admitted to St. Paul's Episcopal church. Two other Negroes attended Mass at St. Teresa's Catholic church, but members of their race have worshipped there before.

Two churches turned Negroes away. A white New York minister, the Rev. Ralph Lord Roy, led two Negroes to Trinity Methodist church. He said they were asked to come back some other time.

Two Negroes who tried to attend Central Baptist church said a white man told them they would have to leave or he would summon a policeman.

'Mylar' Satellite Is 2-Years-Old

Echo I, whose "Mylar" plastic surface was made at the Circleville DuPont plant, observed its second anniversary in orbit Sunday.

The 10-story high communications satellite has orbited the earth 9,000 times and has traveled 277,257,677 miles, according to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The big balloon has outlived all early expectations.

Echo, although now showing signs of age and the hazards of space, is still continuing its endless traverse without sign of let-up. The balloon observed its second birthday at 4:39 a. m. EST Sunday.

NASA said it had not bounced a birthday message off the Circleville made plastic surface.

"IS IT ANY wonder that she's a little misshapen and wrinkled?" the agency asked after the satellite's long tenure in space.

"Scientists felt she's getting a little old, and no real scientific purpose would be served by birthday experimentation," NASA said.

Echo will pass over Central Ohio at 8 p. m., EST, Tuesday, one degree above the southern horizon, moving southeast. There will be little variation across the rest of Ohio. It will be the only visible pass over Ohio by the satellite this week.

Derby Boy Drowns in Lake White

Delbert L. Mason, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mason of Derby drowned in Lake White near Waverly yesterday.

The youngster apparently stepped off a ledge into deep water while wading in the lake. His parents and seven brothers and sisters were with him at the time.

Mrs. Mason attempted to rescue her son, according to the Pike County Sheriff Jesse Foster, and had to be pulled from the water by her husband.

Sheriff Foster reported that the family had been out riding and stopped at the lake to go wading in an unguarded area where people often swim.

The body was found in deep water about 30-feet from shore near the spot where he was last seen.

Robert Caulkins, who was helping the Lake White Patrol and Waverly Emergency squad and sheriffs department in the rescue attempt discovered the body. Young Mason was taken to the Junk Funeral Home in Mt. Sterling.

JFK Congratulates Cosmonauts on Flight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has congratulated the Soviet Union on its latest space accomplishment, but American space officials adopted a wait-and-see attitude and withheld official comment.

While relaxing over the weekend at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Kennedy said in a statement: "I congratulate the Soviet Union on this exceptional technical feat and salute the courage of her two new astronauts. The American people, I know, wish them a safe return."

In Washington, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "Until we know more about the Soviet mission we can't comment intelligently about it."

Although U.S. space officials would not be quoted by name, it was clear that America once again was behind in the space race for the moon. Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who circled the earth three times last May, put it this way: "We're behind and trying our best to catch up."

Earlier, the Soviet news agency Tass reported that a message from Carpenter, received in Moscow via The Associated Press, had been relayed to spaceman Nikolayev while he was in orbit.

Expression of best wishes came, too, from a NASA official at Cape Canaveral, Fla., who asked not to be identified. "I wish the two Russian pilots the best of luck and congratulate the men who put them up," he said. "This is a tremendous accomplishment."

The official added: "It probably will take a miracle for us to beat them to the moon."

The next U.S. space step is scheduled for late next month, when astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. is launched on a planned six-orbit flight of about nine hours.

No Signal Given To End Flight

Historic Feat Puts Soviet Ahead in Space

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts wheeled around the earth in tandem today, one entering his third day in space and the other his second in a historic feat putting the Russians ahead in the race to the moon.

Already they had passed the point where they would have been in position to land and that meant almost certainly they would go on through at least another night and morning.

Aboard Vostok III, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, 32, had made 35 circuits of the earth by 4 p. m. Moscow time, since his blastoff Saturday morning, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Aboard Vostok IV, Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, 31, had made 19 circuits since his launching Sunday morning. He thus also had surpassed the 17-orbit flight of Maj. Gherman S. Titov a year ago.

The two exchanged radio greetings this morning after awakening and eating breakfast, but it was not clear how close their space ships were together. Tass reported they were near enough Sunday to see each other's ships.

Trackers in Japan had put the distance between them as about 75 miles Sunday. But the Sohio Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio, said they later had moved 769 miles apart. The Sohio research supervisor, Dr. A. L. Jones, said the two spacecraft could land between 2 and 3 a. m. Tuesday.

At noon, every correspondent in Moscow braced for news that the pilots had begun their descent to Soviet soil. But rumors of a landing proved wrong. One Soviet source declared: "They are not coming down today."

Premier Khrushchev messaged them: "I again congratulate you and embrace you. I wish you successful fulfillment of the program of the flight, and happy landing."

They were shown again on television today. Lying back in their chairs, occasionally rising to a half sitting position to work better with a log book or to keep it from shielding their faces from the television viewer in the cabin of the ship. Gestures and movements were relatively limited.

Tass reported that millions of television viewers saw Popovich rise from his seat, look through the porthole, smile and drink something, then take his seat again.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Felix R. McKnight, vice president and executive editor of the Dallas Times-Herald, is one of 12 U.S. editors who recently went on an 8,000-mile, 23-day tour of the Soviet Union. Following is a condensation of a series of articles he wrote on his findings.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Soviet Union I saw is a wasteland of suspicion — simply because it has never been told the truth about the United States of America.

It is buried in doubt and distrust, thoroughly propagandized to view us as greedy war profiteers unconcerned about peace and the rights of man.

The Russian reads only what they want him to read and he does what he is told to do.

No longer is there visible terror in the Soviet Union. Khrushchev deadened the fear of the mid-night knock from the NKVD.

Nikita Khrushchev is wily, cunning, shrewd, tough, able — and determined. He stands 5 feet, 5 inches and a disproportionately small head sits atop a bulky body. But he also stands tall and firm as premier of the U.S.S.R. and is likely to remain there for some time.

Now he has the people with him.

He has improved their lot tremendously in recent years through housing and the general elevation of living standards.

Master politician who plays a tough game of international politics, Khrushchev acts like a man who doesn't want war. But not for one minute does it mean that he will abandon the pressures that have set the world off-balance.

The big goal is still there — world domination.

The man is wildly jealous of the United States and he will go to the limit to reach our levels. He spoke of it in his conference with us. From what I saw, he will never make it. The know-how just isn't there on too many things.

The thinking, particularly on agriculture, is primitive and archaic.

Khrushchev is pushing, threatening, and goading to get their sagging agricultural program into some semblance of orderly production.

"What interests us most in America?" the premier asked in his July 13 conference with us. "It is organization of farm production. In this field you have a great experience worthy of being studied. And the organization of agricultural work in the United States is better than in the Soviet Union. You have a better range of machinery, especially for stock farming."

But, of course, he added that "we will surpass you."

street cars, superb railroads and the one and only state-owned airline, Aeroflot.

Ninety-nine per cent of the Soviets rely on public transportation — and they get the best the state can offer.

What is the conclusion to be drawn after seeing, first hand, the fountain of communism in the Soviet Union?

Crises, tensions, and struggles for the minds of uncommitted peoples will be the world's lot for some time to come.

War? No signs of it — but the threat of it to plague mankind, perhaps interminably.

Communism, despite platitudes of "peaceful coexistence," plans faithfully to follow its original course—domination of the world.

Taking the stand that real estate taxation has reached a limit here, the Commissioners said efforts should be made to obtain necessary funds elsewhere. A motion not to place the levy on the ballot was presented by Lloyd Melvin.

The motion was seconded by Clyde Michel and Chairman Charles Morris made it a unanimous decision with an affirmative vote.

The resolution, calling for a 1½ mill levy for a proposed building program at the hospital, was submitted to the Commission on July 30 by Berger's Board of Governors.

THE LEVY, in excess of the 10-mill limitation, was designed to run for a period of five years. The money would have been used for permanent improvement of Berger Hospital, and for the reconstruction, enlargement and extensions necessary as provided by the Revised Code of Ohio.

The proposal would have provided approximately $180,000 per year for a five-year period toward the proposed building program. These figures are based on the county's approximate $120 million tax duplicate.

All three Commissioners joined today in saying that "taxes in Pickaway County already are too high." They indicated that a 1½ mill levy would be too high at this time.

The Commission also indicated that funds in a present hospital building fund could be utilized, with possible aid through matching funds.

Some Church Doors Shut On Negroes

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Singly or in small groups, Negroes tried churches in this racially troubled city but only one got past the doors on an otherwise relaxed Sabbath.

A Negro woman, Doris Derby, 22, was admitted to St. Paul's Episcopal church. Two other Negroes attended Mass at St. Teresa's Catholic church, but members of their race have worshipped there before.

Two churches turned Negroes away. A white New York minister, the Rev. Ralph Lord Roy, led two Negroes to Trinity Methodist church. He said they were asked to come back some other time.

Two Negroes who tried to attend Central Baptist church said a white man told them they would have to leave or he would summon a policeman.

The president of the Albany Movement, W. G. Anderson, said it was "sacrilegious that worshippers are turned away from a house of God."

Albany's city parks and library remained closed after they were locked Saturday when Negroes tried to use them.

'Mylar' Satellite Is 2-Years-Old

Echo I, whose "Mylar" plastic surface was made at the Circleville DuPont plant, observed its second anniversary in orbit Sunday.

The 10-story high communications satellite has orbited the earth 9,000 times and has traveled 277,257,677 miles, according to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The big balloon has outlived all early expectations.

Echo, although now showing signs of age and the hazards of space, is still continuing its endless traverse without sign of let-up. The balloon observed its second birthday at 4:39 a. m. EST Sunday.

NASA said it had not bounced a birthday message off the Circleville made plastic surface.

"IS IT ANY wonder that she's a little misshapen and wrinkled?" the agency asked after the satellite's long tenure in space.

"Scientists felt she's getting a little old, and no real scientific purpose would be served by birthday experimentation," NASA said. Echo will pass over Central Ohio

U.S. Holds Mum On Soviet Feat

JFK Congratulates Cosmonauts on Flight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has congratulated the Soviet Union on its latest space accomplishment, but American space officials adopted a wait-and-see attitude and withheld official comment.

While relaxing over the weekend at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Kennedy said in a statement: "I congratulate the Soviet Union on this exceptional technical feat and salute the courage of her two new astronauts. The American people, I know, wish them a safe return."

In Washington, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "Until we know more about the Soviet mission we can't comment intelligently about it."

Although U.S. space officials would not be quoted by name, it was clear that America once again was behind in the space race for the moon. Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who circled the earth three times last May, put it this way: "We're behind and trying our best to catch up."

Earlier, the Soviet news agency Tass reported that a message from Carpenter, received in Moscow via The Associated Press, had been relayed to spaceman Nikolayev while he was in orbit.

Expression of best wishes came, too, from a NASA official at Cape Canaveral, Fla., who asked not to be identified. "I wish the two Russian pilots the best of luck and congratulate the men who put them up," he said. "This is a tremendous accomplishment."

The official added: "It probably will take a miracle for us to beat them to the moon."

The next U.S. space step is scheduled for late next month, when astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. is launched on a planned six-orbit flight of about nine hours.

Historic Feat Puts Soviet Ahead in Space

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts wheeled around the earth in tandem today, one entering his third day in space and the other his second in a historic feat putting the Russians ahead in the race to the moon.

Already they had passed the point where they would have been in position to land and that meant almost certainly they would go on through at least another night and morning.

Aboard Vostok III, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, 32, had made 35 circuits of the earth by 4 p. m. Moscow time, since his blastoff Saturday morning, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Aboard Vostok IV, Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, 31, had made 19 circuits since his launching Sunday morning. He thus also had surpassed the 17-orbit flight of Maj. Gherman S. Titov a year ago.

The two exchanged radio greetings this morning after awakening and eating breakfast, but it was not clear how close their space ships were together. Tass reported they were near enough Sunday to see each other's ships.

Trackers in Japan had put the distance between them as about 75 miles Sunday. But the Sohio Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio, said they later had moved 769 miles apart. The Sohio research supervisor, Dr. A. L. Jones, said the two spacecraft could land between 2 and 3 a. m. Tuesday.

At noon, every correspondent in Moscow braced for news that the pilots had begun their descent to Soviet soil. But rumors of a landing proved wrong. One Soviet source declared: "They are not coming down today."

Premier Khrushchev messaged them: "I again congratulate you and embrace you. I wish you successful fulfillment of the program of the flight, and happy landing."

They were shown again on television today. Lying back in their chairs, occasionally rising to a half sitting position to work better with a log book or to keep it from shielding their faces from the television viewer in the cabin of the ship. Gestures and movements were relatively limited.

Tass reported that millions of televisioners saw Popovich rise from his seat, look through the porthole, smile and drink something, then take his seat again.

Radioactivity Reaches High Mark

TOKYO (AP)—The Central Meteorological Agency said today it has detected this year's highest amount of radioactivity believed scattered by a Russian nuclear blast early this month.

It said 76 micro-micro-curies of radioactivity per one cubic meter of dust were measured in Osaka, central western Japan, last Friday.

This compared to the previous high of 24 micro-micro-curies recorded in Fukuoka, northern Kyushu Island, last Jan. 8. But it was far less than the 278 micro-micro-curies detected in Osaka last Nov. 8 shortly after Russia exploded a 50-megaton nuclear bomb.

Soviet Called Wasteland, People Denied Right To Know

EDITOR'S NOTE — Felix R. McKnight, vice president and executive editor of the Dallas Times-Herald, is one of 12 U.S. editors who recently went on an 8,000-mile, 23-day tour of the Soviet Union. Following is a condensation of a series of articles he wrote on his findings.

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
Executive Editor,
Dallas Times-Herald

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Soviet Union I saw is a wasteland of suspicion — simply because it has never been told the truth about the United States of America.

It is buried in doubt and distrust, thoroughly propagandized to view us as greedy war profiteers unconcerned about peace and the rights of man.

The Russian reads only what they want him to read and he does what he is told to do.

Only a few hours after our group of editors left an old DC3 type plane in the central Asian area of Samarkand, clutching Rosary beads and saying Methodist prayers because of a misbehaving right engine, it fell in the wilderness near Tashkent.

Sixteen were killed—one American from Detroit survived. But not a single word was printed in the newspapers. We learned of it through the American Embassy four days later.

Russians had not even been told about Teistar, the magnificent American achievement in international communications satellites, when I left the Soviet Union—although we were constantly needed about joining the Soviets in "Atoms for Peace."

The Soviet Union is a massive conglomeration of incredible contrast. It is vital and progressive in the impressive fields of science and technology—but it is pathetically primitive in the area of living.

No longer is there visible terror in the Soviet Union. Khrushchev deadened the fear of the mid-night knock from the NKVD.

Nikita Khrushchev is wily, cunning, shrewd, tough, able — and determined. He stands 5 feet, 5 inches and a disproportionately small head sits atop a bulky body.

But he also stands tall and firm as premier of the U.S.S.R. and is likely to remain there for some time.

Now he has the people with him.

He has improved their lot tremendously in recent years through housing and the general elevation of living standards.

Master politician who plays a tough game of international politics, Khrushchev acts like a man who doesn't want war. But not for one minute does it mean that he will abandon the pressures that have not the world off-balance.

The big goal is still there — world domination.

The man is wildly jealous of the United States and he will go to the limit to reach our levels. He spoke of it in his conference with us. From what I saw, he will never make it. The know-how just isn't there on too many things.

The thinking, particularly on agriculture, is primitive and archaic.

Khrushchev is pushing, threatening, and goading to get their sagging agricultural program into some semblance of orderly production.

"What interests us most in America?" the premier asked in his July 13 conference with us. "It is organization of farm production. In this field you have a great experience worthy of being studied. And the organization of agricultural work in the United States is better than in the Soviet Union. You have a better range of machinery, especially for stock farming."

But, of course, he added that "we will surpass you."

The Soviet Union, its eyes riveted on youth and the future, is bringing along the new generation in the country with tender hands. It lavishes the utmost, from kindergarten through college, on the pliable young.

In all of the Soviet Union, there are 759 higher educational institutions—and the lights burn long on the six-hour day, six-day week schedule. One of the most impressive sights in the Soviet Union is the University of Moscow.

Over the 15 republics of the Soviet Union there is a new skyline — thousands upon thousands of apartment houses.

It is the Russians' desperate drive to solve their gravest problem, housing.

If the goal is achieved 22 million apartments will be occupied by the end of 1965, conclusion of the current seven-year plan.

But construction in the main is appallingly bad and crude. Maintenance of the hastily built apartments and buildings is even worse. It is practically nil.

Mass transportation in the Soviet Union is skillfully handled, with equipment that outshines that of many American cities.

It is a fortunate man, indeed, who owns an automobile in the Soviet Union. Consequently, the burden falls on subways, motor-driven and electric buses, electric street cars, superb railroads and the one and only state-owned airline, Aeroflot.

Ninety-nine per cent of the Soviets rely on public transportation — and they get the best the state can offer.

What is the conclusion to be drawn after seeing, first hand, the fountain of communism in the Soviet Union?

Crises, tensions, and struggles for the minds of uncommitted peoples will be the world's sad lot for some time to come.

War? No signs of it — but the threat of it to plague mankind, perhaps interminably.

Communism, despite platitudes of "peaceful coexistence," plans faithfully to follow its original course—domination of the world.

Two Are Held in Connection With Vandalism at School

An 18-year-old Commercial Point man and a 12-year-old juvenile also of that village, are being held today in connection with the forcible entry and vandalism of the Scioto Twp. School.

Deputy Sheriff George Linder apprehended the pair Saturday afternoon after investigating the incident which resulted in more than $1,000 in damages at the school.

Being held for a preliminary hearing in Circleville Municipal Court is Kenneth Siders, 18, Commercial Point. The 12-year-old was referred to local juvenile authorities.

The entry was reported by Dayton Sheets, principal of the school. The duo entered the building by breaking the window from a door leading to the dining room.

CABINETS were forced open and supplies were scattered throughout the building. The vandals poured ink over typewriters, a mimeograph machine and microscope. Other damage was done to doors, woodwork and blackboards.

They took a tape recorder and record player. However, both were recovered by the Sheriff's Department.

After their rampage, Deputy Linder said, they proceeded to the kitchen where they forced a freezer open and cooked themselves several pieces of fish on the gas range.

They climaxed their evening of destruction at the county school by viewing a filmstrip on "good citizenship." The projection machine with the filmstrip in it was discovered during the probe of the incident.

The building was checked by the Sheriff's Department at 11:30 p. m. Friday during the regular evening patrol of the county and everything was in order. Therefore, deputies stated, the property destruction came between 11:30 p. m. Friday and 5:30 a. m. Saturday.

The duo is also being held in connection with the theft of a lawnmower from the residence of Orin Lawless, Commercial Point.

Safe Attempt Unsuccessful

An attempted safecracking at Yates Buick, S. Court St., was investigated yesterday by Circleville Police.

The entry and safe attempt was discovered by Patrolman Jack Mills while on routine patrol. He noticed a broken window at 5:26 a. m. yesterday.

A closer investigation inside the building showed that the safe's combination had been forced, but the try to open the vault was unsuccessful. A small window in a door leading to the safe was shattered.

Mills said the combination was on the floor beside the safe. An undisclosed amount of money in the firm's cash register was not taken.

One to Grand Jury

Richard Mason was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $500 bond by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Saturday, on non-support charges filed by Vera Marlene Mason.

to reach the moon and back but both reported they felt fine, instruments were functioning perfectly, and cabin temperature and other conditions normal, Tass reported.

A midday bulletin said: "The necessary medical and hygienic conditions in the cabins of the cosmonauts are fully maintained."

The double flight marked a fantastic feat of Soviet rocketry that the United States does not hope to match until at least next year. The ability to send up a second space ship 24 hours after the first one had gone up, and bring it into orbit in the vicinity of the first ship marked an important advance toward the day when satellites can join in space for construction of a space platform from which a moon shot can be made.

British scientists also said the Soviet accomplishment could lead to the early development of military satellites that would home in on spy-in-the-sky satellites as the U.S. Midas and Samos and destroy them.

A U.S. tracking station near Johannesburg, South Africa, calculated from the orbits that both astronauts took off from a launching site in the Baikonur area near the Armenian border.

Robert Citron, chief of the Smithsonian Institution station, predicted the two ships would land near Krasny Kut, in the south-eastern part of the Soviet Union.

Nikolayev told control headquarters he could see Popovich's ship through his porthole as the two ships hurtled through space completing each earth orbit in slightly more than 88 minutes.

At its maximum orbital height of 157 miles, Vostok IV was 14 miles higher than Vostok III. They reached a minimum orbital height of 112 and 111 miles respectively.

'Bribe' Hinted In Senate

Communications Bill Hits Unusual Snag

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators filibustering against the administration's communications satellite bill demanded today an immediate investigation of what one of them called a reported bribery attempt. They asked that all voting be held up meantime.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic leader, told Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and others who cited a statement by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., last Friday that any senator who had information on such matters could get an investigation.

But Mansfield said he would oppose any effort to delay a vote scheduled for Tuesday afternoon on a cloture motion to limit debate and end the filibuster against the satellite bill.

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., told the Senate it was its duty to lay aside the bill "until this charge of bribery has been investigated."

Kefauver and Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., brought up the matter of a series of questions Long had directed last Friday at Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, another opponent of the satellite bill.

Long prefaced his remarks at that time with the observation that "I should like to ask the senator from Utah whether the telephone company has offered him the kind of proposal that it has offered me?"

Moss replied that he had had no communications with the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Long then asked Moss if he had had "proposals made to him that he could own a telephone building in his state and that the telephone company would make the loan and endorse the loan to build a big building in a big city in his state just on the assurance that the senator would give sympathetic consideration to the company's problem."

MANASQUAN, N.J. (AP)—Restricted ocean bathing under the watchful eyes of a shark patrol was ordered today in the area where a New York man was attacked and bitten by what was described as a large fish.

The shark scare was touched off Sunday when Michael Roman, 24, was bitten on the hand, arm, and thigh in waist-deep water about 50 feet from the shore at Manasquan Beach. He was reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

Long then asked Moss if he had had "proposals made to him that he could own a telephone building in his state and that the telephone company would make the loan and endorse the loan to build a big building in a big city in his state just on the assurance that the senator would give sympathetic consideration to the company's problem."

Two Are Held in Connection With Vandalism at School

An 18-year-old Commercial Point man and a 12-year-old juvenile also of that village, are being held today in connection with the forcible entry and vandalism of the Scioto Twp. School.

Deputy Sheriff George Linder apprehended the pair Saturday afternoon after investigating the incident which resulted in more than $1,000 in damages at the school.

Being held for a preliminary hearing in Circleville Municipal Court is Kenneth Siders, 18, Commercial Point. The 12-year-old was referred to local juvenile authorities.

The entry was reported by Dayton Sheets, principal of the school. The duo entered the building by breaking the window from a door leading to the dining room.

CABINETS were forced open and supplies were scattered throughout the building. The vandals poured ink over typewriters, a mimeograph machine and microscope. Other damage was done to doors, woodwork and blackboards.

They took a tape recorder and record player. However, both were recovered by the Sheriff's Department.

After their rampage, Deputy Linder said, they proceeded to the kitchen where they forced a freezer open and cooked themselves several pieces of fish on the gas range.

They climaxed their evening of destruction at the county school by viewing a filmstrip on "good citizenship." The projection machine with the filmstrip in it was discovered during the probe of the incident.

The building was checked by the Sheriff's Department at 11:30 p. m. Friday during the regular evening patrol of the county and everything was in order. Therefore, deputies stated, the property destruction came between 11:30 p. m. Friday and 5:30 a. m. Saturday.

The duo is also being held in connection with the theft of a lawnmower from the residence of Orin Lawless, Commercial Point.

Safe Attempt Unsuccessful

An attempted safecracking at Yates Buick, S. Court St., was investigated yesterday by Circleville Police.

The entry and safe attempt was discovered by Patrolman Jack Mills while on routine patrol. He noticed a broken window at 5:26 a. m. yesterday.

A closer investigation inside the building showed that the safe's combination had been forced, but the try to open the vault was unsuccessful. A small window in a door leading to the safe was shattered.

Mills said the combination was on the floor beside the safe. An undisclosed amount of money in the firm's cash register was not taken.

2 Calls Answered By City Firemen

The Circleville Fire Department answered two calls here Sunday.

At 1:20 p. m. a unit was called to the vicinity of the North Drive-In, old Route 23, to douse a grass fire. No loss was reported.

At 1:45 p. m., firemen were summoned to S. Pickaway St. to check a reported gas pipe leak. They said no damage resulted.

No Signal Given

to reach the moon and back but both reported they felt fine, instruments were functioning perfectly, and cabin temperature and other conditions normal. Tass reported.

A midday bulletin said: "The necessary medical and hygienic conditions in the cabins of the cosmonauts are fully maintained."

The double flight marked a fantastic feat of Soviet rocketry that the United States does not hope to match until at least next year. The ability to send up a second space ship 24 hours after the first one had gone up, and bring it into orbit in the vicinity of the first ship marked an important advance toward the day when satellites can join in space for construction of a space platform from which a moon shot can be made.

British scientists also said the Soviet accomplishment could lead to the early development of military satellites that would home on such spy-in-the-sky satellites as the U.S. Midas and Samos and destroy them.

A U.S. tracking station near Johannesburg, South Africa, calculated from the orbits that both astronauts took off from a launch site in the Baikonur area near the Armenian border.

Robert Citron, chief of the Smithsonian Institution station, predicted the two ships would land near Krasny Kut, in the southeastern part of the Soviet Union.

Nikolayev told control headquarters he could see Popovich's ship through his porthole as the two ships hurtled through space completing each orbit in slightly more than 88 minutes.

At its maximum orbital height of 157 miles, Vostok IV was 14 miles higher than Vostok III. They reached a minimum orbital height of 112 and 111 miles respectively.

Band Practice Set Thursday

Practice sessions for the 1962-63 Circleville High School Band will begin 6:30 p. m. Thursday in the high school music room, Truman Eberly, CHS music director, announced today.

Band rehearsals will continue each week day evening until school begins and music for the football preview, football season, Pumpkin Show and parades will be rehearsed.

Director Eberly said this year's band will number about 80 high school musicians. New music has arrived and is ready for the important pre-school practices, he added.

'Bribe' Hinted In Senate

Communications Bill Hits Unusual Snag

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators filibustering against the administration's communications satellite bill demanded today an immediate investigation of what one of them called a reported bribery attempt. They asked that all voting be held up meantime.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic leader, told Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and others who cited a statement by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., last Friday that any senator who had information on such matters could get an investigation.

But Mansfield said he would oppose any effort to delay a vote scheduled for Tuesday afternoon on a cloture motion to limit debate and end the filibuster against the satellite bill.

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., told the Senate it was its duty to lay aside the bill "until this charge of bribery has been investigated."

Kefauver and Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., brought up the matter of a series of questions Long had directed last Friday at Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, another opponent of the satellite bill.

Long prefaced his remarks at that time with the observation that "I should like to ask the senator from Utah whether the telephone company has offered him the kind of proposal that it has offered me?"

Moss replied that he had had no communications with the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Long then asked Moss if he had had "proposals made to him that he could own a telephone building in his state and that the telephone company would make the loan and endorse the loan to build a big building in a big city in his state just on the assurance that the senator would give sympathetic consideration to the company's problem."

He also attacked his aunt. "I just lost control," said Meeks, blaming 90-degree heat and "nagging" over his need for mental hospital treatment.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has two chances to get muddled up and one to look good in deciding whether an income tax cut is necessary now to give the economy a transfusion.

There is general belief in Washington the President in his nationwide broadcast tonight will decide against a cut at this time.

Any cut now would be based on the hope, and even that is in dispute, that people with more money to spend would spend enough of it to make the economy pick up and sail.

Since economics is not an exact science, neither the President nor his advisers can be positive what turn the economy will take before the end of the year.

All he can do is make an educated guess based on the July economic statistics, with the help of those around him. If the economy holds up well until 1963, without a tax cut, he will look good.

There are two ways in which he could suffer damage, no matter what he decides.

If he asked for a cut this late in Congress, with the members anxious to get home for the election campaigns, he might be ignored. There is some powerful Democratic opposition in Congress to a cut now.

To be ignored on this would be one more Kennedy defeat in a Congress run by Democrats at a time when he plans to stump the country, asking the voters to elect even more Democrats.

While such a defeat would be a reflection on his leadership, a no-tax-cut decision now, if the economy took a dive before the end of 1962, could be interpreted as a reflection on his judgment.

One thing is sure: A cut now, meaning less revenue for the government, would put the nation deeper in the red. The very thought of this has caused some sturdy opposition to a 1962 reduction.

Once through this rocky year, without a cut or a bad slump, then in 1963 Kennedy could ask for both a tax cut and tax reforms. The reforms would provide revenue to make up for that lost through a cut.

The President is expected to talk about the economy in general but such a talk might have been

Water Pollution Seminar Is Awaited

CINCINNATI (AP)—The third seminar on biological problems in water pollution was to start today with an address by James M. Quigley, assistant secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

more effective, and made to-night's unnecessary, if he had made it last spring at the time of the steel dispute.

Kennedy thought he had persuaded the steel industry and the Steelworkers Union to reach a settlement making a price increase unnecessary. Suddenly steel boosted prices. Kennedy got angry. Steel dropped the increase.

Then Kennedy's relations with business began to deteriorate.

A nationwide talk by the President then — on the state of the economy and why he wanted moderation by business and labor — might have cleared the air, encouraged business, and done the economy real good.

Instead, Kennedy let the criticism pile up. Eventually he brought businessmen to the White House for talks. What he did then he probably could have done better in a broadcast.

Human Sacrifice Nixed

Regulations governing the distribution and sale of pharmaceutical drugs necessarily are complex. The layman can only trust that competent, responsible government officials, as well as industry representatives and practicing physicians, contribute to their formulation and enforcement.

The thalidomide tragedies nevertheless point to the obvious need for tighter regulation and less reliance on ethical codes.

As the law stands, the Food and Drug Administration bears the burden of showing within 60 days that a drug is either useless or possibly dangerous. Otherwise, its approval for sale becomes automatic.

Experimentation on animals now needs to proceed no higher than mice and rats before a manufacturer can directly arrange with doctors for testing among their patients.

Though general medical practice protects a patient from unwillingly or unwittingly being used for experimentation, the law does not specifically require that he be informed and his consent given.

Now that these deficiencies have been brought to light by the deplorable experience with thalidomide, there should be no delay in rectifying them. It is incumbent upon both the FDA and Congress to apply every known resource of protection.

Medical science cannot proceed without the assurance that only experimentation with humans can provide. At the same time, no person should become an involuntary sacrifice to progress.

Why All the Glass?

In the lively tradition of the late Frank Lloyd Wright, architect Edward Durell Stone predicts the glass skyscraper is a fad doomed to fade. Windows no longer are essential for light or ventilation, he says—so why all the glass?

A good question, particularly when for nearly every wall of glass there seems to be a suit of curtains to shield against glare and provide privacy. Important, too, is Mr. Stone's assertion that glass buildings lose too much heat in winter and absorb too much of it in summer.

An early adventurer in glass himself, Mr. Stone attributes his disillusionment to a look-alike quality of recent glass skyscrapers, as though they had been assembled from a catalogue. There can be no more damning verdict by an architect.

The danger now is that architects will swing too far the other way, to the sealed windowless box. If they do, they'll hear from the psychologists, for man has been out of the cave too long to return without protest. Somewhere in this business of designing buildings there must be a happy medium between the wall-to-wall and the invisible one. For hundreds of years, there was.

English: Leading Language

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Although the world has some 6,000 languages, half of the people on earth speak one of seven major tongues. Of these, English is by far the most widely understood.

France is considered the international feminine fashion center but a recent poll in Paris revealed that men there spend more money on their clothing than women do.

Prosperity note: Americans spend more each year to buy and operate automobiles than the combined total national income of Canada and Mexico.

Blue for dunning: Only one tenant in five pays his rent promptly on the first of the month. Landlords have found they get their rent money back sooner if they mail out notices on blue instead of white paper.

Tippling time: Of Californians who enjoy drinking, a state public health survey found, three out of four like to have glass in hand while viewing television. With some programs it's a big help!

Our quotable notables: "By all means marry; if you get a good wife, you'll become happy; if you get a bad one, you'll become a philosopher."—Socrates.

Lost on purpose: According to Interpol—International Police Organization—there are more than four million missing persons in the world—most of them husbands.

How old is your buggy? The average age of U.S. automobiles last year was 5.89 years, that of trucks 7.83 years.

Household hint: Tell your wife that if she wants to "touch up" your wash-wear clothing after laundering, to iron them lightly wrong side out. That'll avoid surface shine.

This may be a tough time for people, but Rover never had it so good. There are now 3,000 brands of dog food on the market.

Wisecrack of the week: Crooner Mike Clifford says his girl friend serves him television dinners that melt in his mouth. (He only wishes she'd defrost them first.)

Lore of games: Playing cards

once were the diversion only of the nobility and were hand-painted. In 1415 the Duke of Milan had artist Marziano da Tartona execute a personal deck of cards for him and paid him 1,500 pieces of gold for the job.

A caution to the wasteful: "You have a bank, and its name is time. Every morning it credits you with 86,400 seconds. Every night it rules off, as lost, whatever of this you have failed to invest. It carries over no balances. Each day it opens a new account for you. Each night it burns the records of the day. If you fail to use the day's deposits, the loss is yours."

Opportunity: In a recent year only 139 Americans reported earning a taxable income of a million dollars. Why don't you listen to your wife's advice and become the 140th?

It was Robert Frost who observed, "the world is full of willing people; some willing to work, the rest willing to let them."

if voted by Congress, give the economy a real boost or just a trouble-breeding treasury deficit? Will it stave off a recession so many fear, either later this year or sometime in 1963?

The President has more information than presently available to any outside the government, or to most within it. But the statistics which swayed his decision of necessity reflected the past—some gathered a month ago, a few even farther back.

Some, like orders for durable goods or government spending plans, give a clue to what is likely to happen in the future—but even those are subject to change, either up or down. Historical patterns also offer warnings or promises—although since World War II business history hasn't repeated itself in the precise cyclical ways the economists once preached.

Businessmen will take close note of the President's decision, even if they differ among themselves as to his reasons for it. The stock market especially is likely to react to his prediction of the course the economy seems to be taking and to his plans for guiding or changing that course, if those contain any surprises.

But since World War II, businessmen have had to learn to live with two sometimes conflicting factors:

1. Day by day changes, often unpredictable and in unlikely corners of the world, can upset well laid plans more quickly now than in the past.

2. Many of the old influences have lost their zip, or have been dulled by economic tranquilizers.

Recessions or booms, therefore, aren't as predictable as before, nor as strong as a given set of circumstances once would have assured.

Entirely new forces in the world today give different coloring to old economic indicators. What the Common Market in Europe can do, what the Soviet Union may do, what forces the U.S. government may bring into play, all can soften the impact of a recession or curb the zest of a boom.

But this doesn't mean that reading the economic tea leaves is any easier.

Nor does President Kennedy's decision on the timing of a tax cut change all the forces pressing on the economy, some pushing it higher and some holding it back.

The economic story is still a serial—and for some time to come is likely to continue to be a cliff-hanger.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

CHARLES DICKENS had a favorite after-dinner story that he trotted out for all occasions. It concerned a bitter argument between an Englishman and a Frenchman who agreed to fight a duel with pistols right where they were, with guests cleared from the room, and candles extinguished. The brave but humane Englishman (remember this is Dickens' story!) was unwilling to shed blood, so he groped his way to the fireplace, and discharged his weapon up the chimney. Whom did he bring down but the craven Frenchman, who had crept there for safety! Dickens admitted that when he heard this story in Paris, it was the Englishman who climbed up the chimney).

It is not unusual for an author to disdain his publishers, but William Makepeace Thackeray was more vociferous on the subject than most—possibly because his master-piece, "Vanity Fair," had been turned down by eighteen publishers before one was found willing to take a chance on it. Thackeray found himself, with a friend, in the drawing room of a publisher's home, awaiting the publisher, one morning. The carpet in the room was a gaudy design of red and white. When the publisher appeared, Thackeray announced, "We have been admiring your carpet, sir. It is most appropriate! You made in the blood and brains of authors!"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Sam flushed! "A heating pad on my body and arms? It's my legs that feel cold!"

He didn't know much about heat treatments. Do you?

Heat soothes muscle spasm and warmed blood vessels relax, allowing more blood through. This helps drain any swelling.

Never use heat where circulation is poor. You may whip up the pace of living inside cells and start them screaming for extra blood which narrowed vessels can't supply. Cells strangle, tissues die and painful gangrene sets in.

With the right conditions, all kinds of heat can help. At home—in your own pad!

Infrared Bulbs: They beam heat at you from a distance. Ordinary light bulbs work, too, especially if you mount several in front of a shiny metal reflector set 18 inches away—30 inches for larger bulbs. Regulation is simple. You can feel when it's too hot for comfort.

Hot Water Bottles and Packs: The temperature is hard to control. One minute they're burning hot, the next icy-cold. And their weight squeezes blood vessels.

Electric Heating Pads: These can control the temperature better by switching high, low or medium and the lightweight pad doesn't squeeze blood vessels.

Hot Bats: You can control the exact temperature—about 103 degrees F. Buoyed up by water, arms and legs move freely. You can exercise with hardly an effort.

Whirlpools—egg beaters with safety guards—merely circulate the water to spread the heat more evenly.

Contrast Baths: Use two basins. First, soak in hot (105 degrees F.) water for 10 minutes; then in cold (60 degrees F.) for 1 minute. Then hot—4 minutes—and cold—1 minute three times. Finally, a 5-minute hot soak.

This tightens and relaxes tiny vessels pumping extra blood through. Contrast baths often work where heat alone fails.

Heat can work by remote control. When Sam warmed his body and arms, blood vessels all over relaxed—even those in his cold legs where circulation was too sluggish for direct heat!

Air, Rail Problems Mount

By George Sokolsky

The airlines and the railroads are beset by financial and labor difficulties. The airlines have their strikes even at a time when they must seek amalgamations because the costs of operations are too high. The railroads are in serious financial difficulties because they are hide-bound by laws and costs which make them noncompetitive with other forms of transportation. The airlines suffer from excessive modernization, the railroads suffer from inadequate modernization.

In 1961, the rate of return for the airlines was 1.7 per cent. To operate efficiently the airlines must have a minimum return of 10.5 per cent, after taxes but before interest. One of the largest factors of cost has been the transference to jets which are enormously expensive in purchase, maintenance and operation.

The railroads face a strike over their antiquated work rules. President Kennedy appointed a commission to study the work rules and the commission recommended drastic changes. The railroads accepted the commission's recommendations; the unions rejected them. The unions went into court to get an injunction. The railroads propose to implement even sterner work rules on August 16.

Involved in this question is modernization. The railroads cannot earn their way unless they can modernize. This may mean—a reduction in the work force.

As the airlines have had to face the terrific cost of excessive modernization, they probably will have to amalgamate if they must continue to fill their enormous jets. In many respects, duplicative competition becomes ridiculous in the face of the new sizes of planes. The anti-trust laws on our law books today are unrelated to the realities of modern operations.

The railroads on the other hand cannot fill their trains because they cannot face the competition of busses, motor trucks, motor cars and airplanes. The railroads are in a vise. They can no longer utilize the genius of management; they are dominated by the Interstate Commerce Commission, a hide-bound bureaucratic organization, which seems to take forever to say yes or no to anything. They are teased by state Public Service Commissions, by taxes, but most of all, by the Railroad Brotherhoods which are labor unions and which too often intervene in the functions of management.

The railroads are so stuck that unless some relief appears, they will ultimately all go into bankruptcy and will have to be nationalized. Nationalization of the railroads could lead to nationalization of other means of communications.

It could be that the day of the railroad is over. It may be more efficient and less costly to send the heaviest goods by trucks and special roads will have to be built for that purpose, as it is becoming increasingly less safe for passenger cars to travel on thoroughways with heavy trucking on them. It may be that except for suburban travel, passengers will not use the railroads. The cost of road building and repair is becoming frightfully burdensome because of the increased use of trucks instead of railroads which take care of their own rights of way.

It would seem a bit early to vote the railroads out of existence. They are still needed for heavy goods and some folks do not like air travel and are not yet accustomed to busses. There ought to be enough of them to keep the railroads going, if they can be modernized and if road-beds can be maintained and improved.

For the unions, modernization means loss of jobs and loss of union members. If the railroads are nationalized, the unions could use a measure of political power to have their way. Losses would be made up out of taxes. The services would be reduced; the cost of operations would increase. The railroads would become as inefficient as the Post Office where a fight has to be made in Congress for the slightest degree of modernization.

Jobs for men become more pressing than the convenience of the public. An example of what happens under socialism appears every day in the municipally-owned and managed bus system in New York which goes from worse to worse.

The railroads would be kept alive for what local political value would be in them. Initiative would disappear as incentive disappeared. But the Brotherhoods would still have members. Sooner or later, the best minds in the labor unions will have to realize that the public does not choose to be damned.

Regulations governing the distribution and sale of pharmaceutical drugs necessarily are complex. The layman can only trust that competent, responsible government officials, as well as industry representatives and practicing physicians, contribute to their formulation and enforcement.

The thalidomide tragedies nevertheless point to the obvious need for tighter regulation and less reliance on ethical codes.

As the law stands, the Food and Drug Administration bears the burden of showing within 60 days that a drug is either useless or possibly dangerous. Otherwise, its approval for sale becomes automatic.

Experimentation on animals now needs to proceed no higher than mice and rats before a manufacturer can directly arrange with doctors for testing among their patients.

Though general medical practice protects a patient from unwillingly or unwittingly being used for experimentation, the law does not specifically require that he be informed and his consent given.

Now that these deficiencies have been brought to light by the deplorable experience with thalidomide, there should be no delay in rectifying them. It is incumbent upon both the FDA and Congress to apply every known resource of protection.

Medical science cannot proceed without the assurance that only experimentation with humans can provide. At the same time, no person should become an involuntary sacrifice to progress.

Why All the Glass?

In the lively tradition of the late Frank Lloyd Wright, architect Edward Durrell Stone predicts the glass skyscraper is a fad doomed to fade. Windows no longer are essential for light or ventilation, he says—so why all the glass?

A good question, particularly when for nearly every wall of glass there seems to be a suit of curtains to shield against glare and provide privacy. Important, too, is Mr. Stone's assertion that glass buildings lose too much heat in winter and absorb too much of it in summer.

An early adventurer in glass himself, Mr. Stone attributes his disillusionment to a look-alike quality of recent glass skyscrapers, as though they had been assembled from a catalogue. There can be no more damning verdict by an architect.

The danger now is that architects will swing too far the other way, to the sealed windowless box. If they do, they'll hear from the psychologists, for man has been out of the cave too long to return without protest. Somewhere in this business of designing buildings there must be a happy medium between the wall-to-wall and the invisible one. For hundreds of years, there was.

English: Leading Language

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Although the world has some 6,000 languages, half of the people on earth speak one of seven major tongues. Of these, English is by far the most widely understood.

France is considered the international feminine fashion center but a recent poll in Paris revealed that men there spend more money on their clothing than women do.

Prosperity note: Americans spend more each year to buy and operate automobiles than the combined total national income of Canada and Mexico.

Blue for dunning: Only one tenant in five pays his rent promptly on the first of the month. Landlords have found they get their rent money back sooner if they mail out notices on blue instead of white paper.

Tippling time: Of Californians who enjoy drinking, a state public health survey found, three out of four like to have glass in hand while viewing television. With some programs it's a big help!

Our quotable notables: "By all means marry; if you get a good wife, you'll become happy; if you get a bad one, you'll become a philosopher."—Socrates.

Lost on purpose: According to Interpol—International Police Organization—there are more than four million missing persons in the world—most of them husbands.

How old is your buggy? The average age of U.S. automobiles last year was 5.89 years, that of trucks 7.83 years.

Household hint: Tell your wife that if she wants to "touch up" your wash-wear clothing after laundering, to iron them lightly wrong side out. That'll avoid surface shine.

This may be a tough time for people, but Rover never had it so good. There are now 3,000 brands of dog food on the market.

Wisecrack of the week: Crooner Mike Clifford says his girl friend serves him television dinners that melt in his mouth (He only wishes she'd defrost them first.)

Lore of games: Playing cards

once were the diversion only of the nobility and were hand-painted. In 1415 the Duke of Milan had artist Marziano da Tortona execute a personal deck of cards for him and paid him 1,500 pieces of gold for the job.

A caution to the wasteful: "You have a bank, and its name is time. Every morning it credits you with 86,400 seconds. Every night it rules off, as lost, whatever of this you have failed to invest. It carries over no balances. Each day it opens a new account for you. Each night it burns the records of the day. If you fail to use the day's deposits, the loss is yours."

Opportunity: In a recent year only 139 Americans reported earning a taxable income of a million dollars. Why don't you listen to your wife's advice and become the 140th?

It was Robert Frost who observed, "the world is full of willing people; some willing to work, the rest willing to let them."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—When President Kennedy tells the nation tonight just what date he thinks the Congress should cut tax rates and why, he'll be ending one episode in the summer's best ballyhooed cliffhanger.

But, like the old movie serials, he may leave as many or more questions than he answers:

What will Congress do? Will tax cuts now or next January be linked with tax reforms that close some loopholes—that is, cost some individuals or industries more? Will a tax cut, when and if voted by Congress, give the economy a real boost or just a trouble-breeding treasury deficit? Will it stave off a recession so many fear, either later this year or sometime in 1963?

The President has more information than presently available to any outside the government, or to most within it. But the statistics which swayed his decision of necessity reflected the past—some gathered a month ago, a few even farther back.

Some, like orders for durable goods or government spending plans, give a clue to what is likely to happen in the future—but even those are subject to change, either up or down. Historical patterns also offer warnings or promises—although since World War II business history hasn't repeated itself in the precise cyclical ways the economists once preached.

Businessmen will take close note of the President's decision, even if they differ among themselves as to his reasons for it. The stock market especially is likely to react to his prediction of the course the economy seems to be taking and to his plans for guiding or changing that course, if those contain any surprises.

But since World War II, businessmen have had to learn to live with two sometimes conflicting factors:

1. Day by day changes, often unpredictable and in unlikely corners of the world, can upset well laid plans more quickly now than in the past.

2. Many of the old influences have lost their zip, or have been dulled by economic tranquilizers.

Recessions or booms, therefore, aren't as predictable as before, nor as strong as a given set of circumstances once would have assured.

Entirely new forces in the world today give different coloring to old economic indicators. What the Common Market in Europe can do, what the Soviet Union may do, what forces the U.S. government may bring into play, all can soften the impact of a recession or curb the zest of a boom.

But this doesn't mean that reading the economic tea leaves is any easier.

Nor does President Kennedy's decision on the timing of a tax cut change all the forces pressing on the economy, some pushing it higher and some holding it back. The economic story is still a serial—and for some time to come is likely to continue to be a cliffhanger.

CHARLES DICKENS had a favorite after-dinner story that he trotted out for all occasions. It concerned a bitter argument between an Englishman and a Frenchman who agreed to fight a duel with pistols right where they were, with guests cleared from the room, and candles extinguished. The brave but humane Englishman (remember this is Dickens' story!) was unwilling to shed blood, so he groped his way to the fireplace, and discharged his weapon up the chimney. Whom did he bring down but the craven Frenchman, who had crept there for safety! Dickens admitted that when he heard this story in Paris, it was the Englishman who climbed up the chimney).

It is not unusual for an author to disdain his publishers, but William Makepeace Thackeray was more vociferous on the subject than most—possibly because his master-piece, "Vanity Fair," had been turned down by eighteen publishers before one was found willing to take a chance on it. Thackeray found himself, with a friend, in the drawing room of a publisher's home, awaiting the publisher, one morning. The carpet in the room was a gaudy design of red and white. When the publisher appeared, Thackeray announced, "We have been admiring your carpet, sir. It is most appropriate! You yad in the blood and brains of authors!"

Sam flushed!

"A heating pad on my body and arms? It's my legs that feel cold!"

He didn't know much about heat treatments. Do you?

Heat soothes muscle spasm and warmed blood vessels relax, allowing more blood through. This helps drain any swelling.

Never use heat where circulation is poor. You may whip up the pace of living inside cells and start them screaming for extra blood which narrowed vessels can't supply. Cells strangle, tissues die and painful gangrene sets in.

With the right conditions, all kinds of heat can help. At home—in your own pad!

Infrared Bulbs: They beam heat at you from a distance. Ordinary light bulbs work, too, especially if you mount several in front of a shiny metal reflector set 18 inches away—30 inches for larger bulbs. Regulation is simple. You can feel when it's too hot for comfort.

Hot Water Bottles and Packs: The temperature is hard to control. One minute they're burning hot, the next icy-cold. And their weight squeezes blood vessels.

Electric Heating Pads: These can control the temperature better by switching high, low or medium and the lightweight pad doesn't squeeze blood vessels.

Hot Bats: You can control the exact temperature—about 105 degrees F. Buoyed up by water, arms and legs move freely. You can exercise with hardly an effort.

Whirlpools—egg beaters with safety guards—merely circulate the water to spread the heat more evenly.

Contrast Baths: Use two basins. First, soak in hot (105 degrees F.) water for 10 minutes; then in cold (60 degrees F.) for 1 minute. Then hot—4 minutes—and cold—1 minute three times. Finally, a 5-minute hot soak.

Summer Sickness Bothers Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market inched lower last week, stricken by what many called a spell of summer sickness.

Trading activity tumbled to the second lowest of the year for a non-holiday week. Many Street "regulars" were on vacation. Investor interest lagged in general.

The popular market averages showed relatively small losses. Each day it was the same story: A great majority of stocks moved by fractions of a point.

Business news, good and bad, had little impact on prices in most cases. The over-all loss ran from 1-3 to 2-3 of the gains accumulated in the previous two weeks.

The market appeared resigned there would be no tax cut this year far before President Kennedy set Monday to disclose his decision. Late in the week some of the July economic indicators such as retail and department store sales and personal income pointed upward, reinforcing the likelihood of no tax cut until next year.

For the first 2½ days of the week prices declined slowly but surely. Part of this was blamed on the failure of General Motors to raise its dividend, a step some brokers had anticipated in view of record company sales and profits.

Late Wednesday came the only active period of the week with prices recovering rapidly in the final hour. The day ended with the list higher but by Thursday's opening the surge had worn off. Thursday was a standoff as was Friday's session.

Thursday produced a good example of investor indifference. The number of issues traded dropped to 1,814, the lowest since the semi-holiday session of Nov. 11, 1960 when 1,163 were traded.

Then Friday volume hit a 2½ month low, dropping below 2.5 million shares. The average daily volume for the first seven months of the year was over 3.8 million. The daily average for the week was a little over 2.85 million.

The week's volume totaled 14,329,402 compared with 16,890,595 the previous week and 18,163,380 in the comparable week a year ago. The only lower non-holiday week this year was July 23-27 when volume was 13,920,000.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.9 at 207.9 while the Dow Jones industrial average fell 4.06 to 592.32.

Cloudiness held temperatures to the 60s during the night, but winds were shifting to northwesterly in the western counties. Afternoon readings today will be in the upper 70s and low 80s.

Skies are expected to clear tonight, and Tuesday will be fair and mild.

Summer Enrollment Hits Record at Miami

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Miami University officials say the 1,596 students enrolled for the second term of the school's summer session set a record.

The registrar's office said the combined first and second session enrollment for 1962 is 4,402, exceeding the old high of 4,297 in the summer of 1946. That same year, 1,560 students were enrolled in the second summer session.

JFK's Tax Decision Based on Various Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy's decision on an immediate cut in income and corporate taxes, scheduled to be revealed to the nation this evening, will be based on a vast array of reports. Newest business statistics were handed to him at a meeting with his Council of Economic Advisers, some members of his Cabinet and the budget director.

Here are some of the reports he was given:

Retail sales in July increased 2 per cent from $19.1 billion in June to $19,451,000,000.

Personal income climbed to a record annual rate of $442 billion in July, a gain of $1.3 billion over the June rate. The increase was due largely to higher wage and salary payments.

The factory work week dropped from 40.5 hours in June to 40.4 in July. This was the third successive monthly decline but the work week was the longest for July since 1950.

There was a flood of argument during the week among economic and political leaders over the income tax issue. Much of the discussion was before congressional committees delving into the economic situation.

Walter W. Heller, Kennedy's chief economic adviser, said present economic trends are "perplexing and inconclusive cross-currents" but do not "sum up to a crisis." He added there is a possibility the lag "represents advance warning of an economic decline."

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, who earlier had urged an immediate tax reduction, did not make such a recommendation when he appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee. Instead, he was reported to have favored tax reform, including a scaling down of income taxes.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon was said to have told the committee that wide-ranging tax reform next year would do more for the economy than passage now of a tax-cut bill.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York reported that on the basis of early statistics the economic expansion improved somewhat in July after a marked slowdown in June. It added, however, that the economy continues to operate well below capacity.

The Federal Reserve Board, which surveys 17,000 families every three months on their buying plans, said indications were that a plateau in purchasing has been reached.

Civilian merchandise exports in June rose to more than $1.8 billion, up five per cent from May and the highest for any month since March 1957.

Automobile sales continued to be one of the brightest facets of the economy. In July, dealers sold 511,679 new passenger cars, compared with 420,032 in July 1961 and 429,005 in July 1960. It was the biggest total for the month since 1955.

Production during the week skidded to an estimated 65,000 from 112,381 the previous week as more plants shut down for the changeover to 1963 models. Output of 1962s will end Tuesday with an industry total of 6,675,000, second only to the 7,136,496 built in the 1955 model year.

Stock sales for the week totaled 14,329,402 shares, down from the 16,890,595 of the previous week and 18,163,380 for the comparable week a year ago. Bond sales dropped to $19,241,000 par value during the week from $21,706,000 the previous week and $30,569,000 a year ago.

Biggest development in the steel industry was the announcement by U.S. Steel Corp. that it would build a huge cold-rolled sheet steel mill in Gary, Ind., which would double the company's capacity for output of the product. U.S. Steel declined to estimate cost of the mill but industry sources said it could run as high as $55 million.

For the fourth straight week, steel production moved up during the week, reaching 1,578,000 tons, a gain of 4.9 per cent over the previous week.

The railroad operating unions obtained a temporary injunction in federal court in Chicago to prevent the railroads from putting into effect new work rules which would eliminate the jobs of 40,000 firemen on diesel trains. The railroads had threatened to enforce the new rules Aug. 16 and the unions had said they would strike. The injunction has the effect of barring the railroads' intended action pending appeal.

ENVIOUS OF BOYS — "Gee, boys get to do everything," complains Margaret Carter, 9, as she holds a big Cape Canaveral scene in Marshalltown, Ia. She wrote to President Kennedy asking to be considered as a woman astronaut, and in due time, back came a letter from NASA, declining politely, but including lots of information, all about boy astronauts.

NEW YORK-BOUND—Traveling to New York City from Los Angeles in a private, seven-car train, Jackie Gleason hams it up with Sue Langdon while Cutty Marshall, on trombone, Max Cominsky, on clarinet, and Bob Wilbur, on trumpet, swing away. Also on the train are newsmen, television personalities and what Gleason calls "invited hangers-on." The 10-day jaunt that will end Aug. 18 will cost at least $80,000.

Summer Sickness Bothers Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market inched lower last week, stricken by what many called a spell of summer sickness.

Trading activity tumbled to the second lowest of the year for a non-holiday week. Many Street "regulars" were on vacation. Investor interest lagged in general.

The popular market averages showed relatively small losses. Each day it was the same story: A great majority of stocks moved by fractions of a point.

Business news, good and bad, had little impact on prices in most cases. The over-all loss ran from 1-3 to 2-3 of the gains accumulated in the previous two weeks.

The market appeared resigned there would be no tax cut this year far before President Kennedy set Monday to disclose his decision. Late in the week some of the July economic indicators such as retail and department store sales and personal income pointed upward, reinforcing the likelihood of no tax cut until next year.

For the first 2½ days of the week prices declined slowly but surely. Part of this was blamed on the failure of General Motors to raise its dividend, a step some brokers had anticipated in view of record company sales and profits.

Late Wednesday came the only active period of the week with prices recovering rapidly in the final hour. The day ended with the list higher but by Thursday's opening the surge had worn off. Thursday was a standoff as was Friday's session.

Thursday produced a good example of investor indifference. The number of issues traded dropped to 1,814, the lowest since the semi-holiday session of Nov. 11, 1960 when 1,163 were traded.

Then Friday volume hit a 2½ month low, dropping below 2.5 million shares. The average daily volume for the first seven months of the year was over 3.8 million. The daily average for the week was a little over 2.85 million.

The week's volume totaled 14,329,402 compared with 16,890,595 the previous week and 18,163,380 in the comparable week a year ago. The only lower non-holiday week this year was July 23-27 when volume was 13,920,000.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.9 at 207.9 while the Dow Jones industrial average fell 4.06 to 592.32.

Summer Enrollment Hits Record at Miami

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Miami University officials say the 1,596 students enrolled for the second term of the school's summer session set a record.

The registrar's office said the combined first and second session enrollment for 1962 is 4,402, exceeding the old high of 4,297 in the summer of 1946. That same year, 1,560 students were enrolled in the second summer session.

JFK's Tax Decision Based on Various Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy's decision on an immediate cut in income and corporate taxes, scheduled to be revealed to the nation this evening, will be based on a vast array of reports.

Newest business statistics were handed to him at a meeting with his Council of Economic Advisers, some members of his Cabinet and the budget director.

Here are some of the reports he was given:

Retail sales in July increased 2 per cent from $19.1 billion in June to $19,451,000,000.

Personal income climbed to a record annual rate of $442 billion in July, a gain of $1.3 billion over the June rate. The increase was due largely to higher wage and salary payments.

The factory work week dropped from 40.5 hours in June to 40.4 in July. This was the third successive monthly decline but the work week was the longest for July since 1950.

There was a flood of argument during the week among economic and political leaders over the income tax issue. Much of the discussion was before congressional committees delving into the economic situation.

Walter W. Heller, Kennedy's chief economic adviser, said present economic trends are "perplexing and inconclusive cross-currents" but do not "sum up to a crisis." He added there is a possibility the lag "represents advance warning of an economic decline."

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, who earlier had urged an immediate tax reduction, did not make such a recommendation when he appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee. Instead, he was reported to have favored tax reform, including a scaling down of income taxes.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon was said to have told the committee that wide-ranging tax reform next year would do more for the economy than passage now of a tax-cut bill.

Neglected Household Tasks

By ELEANOR ROSS

Even in a home run by the neat-est, most meticulous of homemakers, certain tasks are often neglected, if only for the simple reason that they don't fit into a regular housekeeping schedule.

Some of these chores, such as cleaning closets and kitchen cabinets, do require most of the working day schedule. Others — such as washing the refrigerator gasket and "doing" the stove thoroughly — should be accomplished while the room in which they are located is getting its proper going-over.

However, there are many relatively small jobs which really don't belong in either category.

Washing the telephone or scrubbing down the outdoor garbage pail are often left out of a regular cleaning schedule, yet each takes only a few minutes of time. That's why it's a good idea to set aside a few hours every week or two to handle those little tasks that might otherwise not get done.

When, for instance, was the last time you washed the television screen? Or the glass tops on your tables and cabinets?

How about cleaning behind the radiators? And removing accumulated layers of floor wax from corners?

Have you given the cellar steps a good cleaning lately? Or washed and polished the brass plates and knobs on doors around the house?

And, of course, there are always the lamps — including the newer hanging type — which must be dismantled, sudsed and rinsed occasionally. Only then will the lamps shed all the light you are paying for.

These are just a few of the little, often-overlooked chores which might be accomplished in a morning set aside for miscellaneous cleaning — and you can probably think up many others.

So why not sit down and make a list of such jobs, then see how many you can polish off in three or four hours?

You'll be pleasantly surprised how sparkling your home will look, once the nooks and crannies are as clean as the "big" things which first come to the attention of family and callers on entering your home.

Mrs. Noggle was in charge of the program. Jay and Patty Welsh presented a duet, "My Hand in Thine". Mrs. Morgan read "Somebody had Prayed" and Miss Gretchen Hott presented a piano solo, "Star Dust".

A playlet, "Over the Back Fence" was given by Mrs. Cecil Ward and Mrs. Howard Younkin, and the musical comedy number "Honey Bun" was enacted by Marilyn and Marlene Younkin.

The winner of the door prize was Mrs. Coit Wilson.

Mrs. L. J. Welsh, Mrs. Lawrence Ward, Mrs. Henry Hansen and Mrs. Fee will be in charge at the next meeting on Sept. 13.

Watermelons Are Still Popular Today

By ALICE DENHOFF

Although watermelon seems as American as the Fourth of July, its cultivation was recorded thousands of years before the discovery of this continent.

Ancient Egyptian art shows the fruit, and it is mentioned by its Hebrew name, "abbatichin", in accounts of the Hebrew exodus from Egypt.

It was the famous missionary-explorer, David Livingston, who cleared up the mystery of the watermelons' birthplace when he found vast tracts of the melons growing wild in Central Africa.

The melon reached Europe near the beginning of the Christian Era and, centuries later, European colonists brought it to America. It had become fairly common in Massachusetts by the early 17th century.

Now back to the kitchen with some suggestions for using the cool, refreshing watermelon.

The first idea is to use watermelon in a punch that is both good in taste and good for you.

WATERMELON FRUIT PUNCH

- 1½ qts. diced fresh watermelon
 - 1-3 c. lemon juice
 - 1 c. orange juice
 - ¾ c. sugar
 - ¼ tsp. salt
- Put diced watermelon through medium-fine strainer. Add remaining ingredients. Stir until thoroughly dissolved.
- Chill and serve over ice cubes. Makes about 5 c.
- Then there's a cool fresh fruit medley for a hot day.

WATERMELON FRESH FRUIT CUP

- 2 c. watermelon balls
 - 1 c. pineapple wedges
 - 2 tbsp. lemon juice
 - 3 tsp. sugar
 - ½ c. blueberries
 - Fresh mint
- Combine first 4 ingredients. Chill at least 1 hr.
- Add blueberries.
- Serve in sherbet glasses with mint garnish.
- Serves 4.

Now for a refreshing sherbet.

WATERMELON SHERBET

- 1 env. unflavored gelatin
- ¼ c. cold water
- 1 c. sugar
- 4 c. diced watermelon
- 2 tbsp. lemon juice
- ¼ tsp. salt

1 unbeaten egg white
Soften gelatin in cold water in custard cup. Place in pan of hot (not boiling) water to melt.

Combine sugar, watermelon, lemon juice and salt. Refrigerate for 30 min.

Rub mixture through sieve. Stir in melted gelatin.

Turn into ice-cube tray and freeze until almost firm, stirring once.

Turn into large bowl of electric mixer. Add unbeaten egg white and beat with mixer at high speed until light and fluffy.

Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm, stirring once.

Makes 1 qt.

Dear Abby: You're Not Fair, Honey!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My mother died three years ago and my father re-married last month. Nobody could ever take my mother's place, but I was told I was getting a "new" mother. I not only didn't get a "new" mother, I lost my father, too. His new wife set up all sorts of rules and regulations to help me grow up "right." And my father is on her side. So, Dear Abby, if you want to give young people helpful advice when they get a "new" mother or father, tell them the sooner they start thinking of themselves as orphans the better off they'll be.

FOURTEEN

DEAR FOURTEEN: Your problem is a familiar one. When a child loses a parent the remaining parent frequently eases up on discipline out of sympathy. When "rules and regulation" are suddenly imposed again, resentment follows. Your "new" mother will never take the place of the one you lost, but she is doing her best to raise you "right". Give her a chance.

DEAR ABBY: A nephew of mine is being married soon. My husband and I were not invited to the wedding because of a family fight that took place two years ago. The wedding is being held in the church we belong to. I say there is no reason why we can't go to the church and see the wedding. If they don't like it, let them try to throw us out. (Of course, we wouldn't go to the reception.) My husband says we should not go to the church. I don't see why we should stay away since it's OUR church. What do you think?

NOT INVITED

DEAR NOT: If you want to go to your church to see the wedding—go. And if your husband wants to stay home — go without him.

DEAR ABBY: While cleaning my son's room I came across a letter he had written to you, Dear Abby. He signed himself "STILL IN LOVE." I think you should know the "STILL IN LOVE." WAS BORN December 9, 1950. What is the matter with children nowadays?

MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Don't be alarmed. Your little boy is merely borrowing the romantic jargon of modern times. "Nowadays" children are not much different from yesterday's. Don't ridicule him.

DEAR ABBY: Your correspondent, Harry, who would rather have a mule than a wife (because the mule would bring in a few dollars) sure bugged me. Call his evenly circulated GAS heat keeps every room cozy all winter

Practically all new homes are heated with Gas — and here's why. A forced air Gas system circulates the air evenly—through every room in your house, including the basement. And a single, centrally located thermostat keeps the temperature uniform throughout. Your children can play in comfort on the floor in any room—even on coldest days. Your rooms never have a stale, stuffy, stagnant atmosphere, because the warm, filter-cleaned, freshened air is constantly "on the move" throughout your house.

If your home is heated with modern, automatic Gas equipment, you have the best heating system you can buy! And, when you buy or build a new home, make sure it has modern Gas heat.

What's more, it's easy to convert your forced air Gas heating system to summer comfort cooling—just add on a Gas Air Conditioning unit to your present Gas heating system. Enjoy year-round, "whole-house comfort" with GAS!

Neglected Household Tasks

By ELEANOR ROSS

Even in a home run by the neatest, most meticulous of homemakers, certain tasks are often neglected, if only for the simple reason that they don't fit into a regular housekeeping schedule.

Some of these chores, such as cleaning closets and kitchen cabinets, do require most of the working day schedule. Others — such as washing the refrigerator gasket and "doing" the stove thoroughly — should be accomplished while the room in which they are located is getting its proper going-over.

However, there are many relatively small jobs which really don't belong in either category.

Washing the telephone or scrubbing down the outdoor garbage pail are often left out of a regular cleaning schedule, yet each takes only a few minutes of time. That's why it's a good idea to set aside a few hours every week or two to handle those little tasks that might otherwise not get done.

When, for instance, was the last time you washed the television screen? Or the glass tops on your tables and cabinets?

How about cleaning behind the radiators? And removing accumulated layers of floor wax from corners?

Have you given the cellar steps a good cleaning lately? Or washed and polished the brass plates and knobs on doors around the house?

And, of course, there are always the lamps — including the newer hanging type — which must be dismantled, sudsed and rinsed occasionally. Only then will the lamps shed all the light you are paying for.

These are just a few of the little, often-overlooked chores which might be accomplished in a morning set aside for miscellaneous cleaning — and you can probably think up many others.

So why not sit down and make a list of such jobs, then see how many you can polish off in three or four hours?

You'll be pleasantly surprised how sparkling your home will look, once the nooks and crannies are as clean as the "big" things which first come to the attention of family and callers on entering your home.

Watermelons Are Still

Popular Today

By ALICE DENHOFF

Although watermelon seems as American as the Fourth of July, its cultivation was recorded thousands of years before the discovery of this continent.

Ancient Egyptian art shows the fruit, and it is mentioned by its Hebrew name, "abbatitchin", in accounts of the Hebrew exodus from Egypt.

It was the famous missionary-explorer, David Livingston, who cleared up the mystery of the watermelons birthplace when he found vast tracts of the melons growing wild in Central Africa.

The melon reached Europe near the beginning of the Christian Era and, centuries later, European colonists brought it to America. It had become fairly common in Massachusetts by the early 17th century.

Now back to the kitchen with some suggestions for using the cool, refreshing watermelon.

The first idea is to use watermelon in a punch that is both good in taste and good for you.

WATERMELON FRUIT PUNCH

1½ qts. diced fresh watermelon
1-3 c. lemon juice
1 c. orange juice
¾ c. sugar
¼ tsp. salt

Put diced watermelon through medium-fine strainer. Add remaining ingredients. Stir until thoroughly dissolved.

Chill and serve over ice cubes.

Makes about 5 c.

Then there's a cool fresh fruit medley for a hot day.

WATERMELON FRESH FRUIT CUP

2 c. watermelon balls
1 c. pineapple wedges
2 tsp. lemon juice
3. tsp. sugar
½ c. blueberries
¼ tsp. salt

Fresh mint

Combine first 4 ingredients. Chill at least 1 hr.

Add blueberries. Serve in sherbet glasses with mint garnish.

Serves 4.

Now for a refreshing sherbet.

WATERMELON SHERBET

1 env. unflavored gelatin
¼ c. cold water
1 c. sugar
4 c. diced watermelon
2 tsp. lemon juice
½ tsp. salt
1 unbeaten egg white

Soften gelatin in cold water in eustard cup. Place in pan of hot (not boiling) water to melt.

Combine sugar, watermelon, lemon juice and salt. Refrigerate for 30 min.

Rub mixture through sieve. Stir in melted gelatin.

Turn into ice-cube tray and freeze until almost firm, stirring once.

Turn into large bowl of electric mixer. Add unbeaten egg white and beat with mixer at high speed until light and fluffy.

Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm, stirring once.

Makes 1 qt.

Dear Abby: You're Not Fair, Honey!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My mother died three years ago and my father remarried last month. Nobody could ever take my mother's place, but I was told I was getting a "new" mother. I not only didn't get a "new" mother, I lost my father, too. His new wife set up all sorts of rules and regulations to help me grow up "right." And my father is on her side. So, Dear Abby, if you want to give young people helpful advice when they get a "new" mother or father, tell them the sooner they start thinking of themselves as orphans the better off they'll be.

FOURTEEN

DEAR FOURTEEN: Your problem is a familiar one. When a child loses a parent the remaining parent frequently eases up on discipline out of sympathy. When "rules and regulation" are suddenly imposed again, resentment follows. Your "new" mother will never take the place of the one you lost, but she is doing her best to raise you "right". Give her a chance.

DEAR ABBY: A nephew of mine is being married soon. My husband and I were not invited to the wedding because of a family fight that took place two years ago. The wedding is being held in the church we belong to. I say there is no reason why we can't go to the church and see the wedding. If they don't like it, let them try to throw us out. (Of course, we wouldn't go to the reception.) My husband says we should not go to the church. I don't see why we should stay away since it's OUR church. What do you think?

NOT INVITED

DEAR NOT: If you want to go to your church to see the wedding—go. And if your husband wants to stay home—go without him.

DEAR ABBY: While cleaning my son's room I came across a letter he had written to you, Dear Abby. He signed himself "STILL IN LOVE." I think you should know the "STILL IN LOVE." WAS BORN December 9, 1950. What is the matter with children nowadays?

MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Don't be alarmed. Your little boy is merely borrowing the romantic jargon of modern times. "Nowadays" children are not much different from yesterday's. Don't ridicule him.

DEAR ABBY: Your correspondent, Harry, who would rather have a mule than a wife (because the mule would bring in a few dollars) sure bugged me. Call his

Ashville Nine Crowned BR Minor Champs

Paced by strong relief pitching and some timely hitting, Ashville No. 2 won the Babe Ruth Minor League championship, 6-4, over Third National. The Ashville nine earned the title with two straight wins over the Bankmen.

Nickey Nance relieved starting hurler Dave Cook in the sixth inning with the score tied 4-4 and pitched two scoreless frames to pick up the victory. Ashville tallied its two winning runs in the bottom of the sixth.

The champs had only three hits, but took full advantage of five Third National errors in chalking up their six runs. Ronnie Leatherwood scored two runs and socked a single and Terry Noggle scored two runs. Rick Pickering belted a single and tallied one run.

Ronnie Bryant poled a double and Lewis Jordan scored two runs for Third National.

Losing hurler Tom Hamman allowed only two earned runs, struck out nine and allowed only five free passes in six innings. Ashville finished the season with a mark of 12-3, compared to Third National's 7-9.

"I figure I can never stop learning about golf," says Masters and British Open Champion Arnold Palmer. "That's why I keep trying different things."

Palmer Gains 2 Goals in Akron Classic

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the great one, came to the American Golf Classic with two goals in mind and achieved them both.

First, Palmer wanted to master the treacherous 7,165-yard Firestone layout with its monstrous No. 16 hole, which measures 625 yards. Then he wanted to win enough money to surpass his own earnings record, established in 1960.

The Pennsylvania pounder, whose galleries resemble Ghengis Khan's hordes, put together four magnificent rounds of 67-69-70-70 for a 276 total, four strokes under Firestone's par 35-35-70, to win top money of $9,000.

He finished five strokes ahead of the field to boost his total earnings to $80,198, surpassing the mark of $75,262 he established two years ago. It was his eighth tournament triumph this year. Palmer, 32, now has a career total of 36 victories.

No. 16, which cost Palmer the PGA victory in 1960, was humbled this time. In each and every round, Palmer scored a birdie.

"I played it differently this time," said Palmer. "But despite four birdies, I still have a lot of respect for that monster."

Palmer, who will forgo action until the "World Series of Golf" at Firestone next month, defeated Mason Rudolph by five strokes. Rudolph, putting together a 31-35-66 in the final round, finished with a 281 for second money of $4,600. Finishing in a tie for third place with 284s were U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, Don January, Al Geiberger and Billy Maxwell—all earning $2,500.

Ashville Nine Crowned BR Minor Champs

Paced by strong relief pitching and some timely hitting, Ashville No. 2 won the Babe Ruth Minor League championship, 6-4, over Third National. The Ashville nine earned the title with two straight wins over the Bankmen.

Nickey Nance relieved starting hurler Dave Cook in the sixth inning with the score tied 4-4 and pitched two scoreless frames to pick up the victory. Ashville tallied its two winning runs in the bottom of the sixth.

The champs had only three hits, but took full advantage of five Third National errors in chalking up their six runs. Ronnie Leatherwood scored two runs and socked a single and Terry Noggle scored two runs. Rick Pickering belted a single and tallied one run.

Ronnie Bryant poled a double and Lewis Jordan scored two runs for Third National.

Losing hurler Tom Hamman allowed only two earned runs, struck out nine and allowed only five free passes in six innings. Ashville finished the season with a mark of 12-3, compared to Third National's 7-9.

"I figure I can never stop learning about golf," says Masters and British Open Champion Arnold Palmer. "That's why I keep trying different things."

Ed LaDuke, second baseman for Indiana, led the Big Ten in hitting last spring with .431. He has signed with the New York Mets.

Palmer Gains 2 Goals in Akron Classic

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the great one, came to the American Golf Classic with two goals in mind and achieved them both.

First, Palmer wanted to master the treacherous 7,165-yard Firestone layout with its monstrous No. 16 hole, which measures 625 yards. Then he wanted to win enough money to surpass his own earnings record, established in 1960.

The Pennsylvania pounder, whose galleries resemble Ghengis Khan's hordes, put together four magnificent rounds of 67-69-70-70 for a 276 total, four strokes under Firestone's par 35-35-70, to win top money of $9,000.

He finished five strokes ahead of the field to boost his total earnings to $80,198, surpassing the mark of $75,262 he established two years ago. It was his eighth tournament triumph this year. Palmer, 32, now has a career total of 36 victories.

No. 16, which cost Palmer the PGA victory in 1960, was humbled this time. In each and every round, Palmer scored a birdie.

"I played it differently this time," said Palmer. "But despite four birdies, I still have a lot of respect for that monster."

Palmer, who will forgo action until the "World Series of Golf" at Firestone next month, defeated Mason Rudolph by five strokes. Rudolph, putting together a 31-35-66 in the final round, finished with a 281 for second money of $4,600. Finishing in a tie for third place with 284s were U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, Don January, Al Geiberger and Billy Maxwell—all earning $2,500.

Maris' Plate Production Is Far below '61

So Far, His Hitting Average Runs Short Of Last Year's Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Roger Maris isn't going to hit 61 home runs this season. He may not even hit .269. He did both last season.

Right now Roger is hitting .254, which is a very good average for most pitchers. It isn't so hot for one of baseball's highest paid hitting stars.

The New York Yankees gave the green-eyed, blond slugger a $70,000 contract this season well knowing he wasn't going to hit 61 homers, but full of high hopes he might improve his batting average.

He's done neither, but still may be worth the money.

Over the weekend Maris either scored or drove in every Yankee run in three games.

New York edged Detroit 2-0 Sunday. Roger drove in the first one and scored the second. That, along with the five-hit pitching of Bill Stafford (10-7), was all it took.

The victory, plus Minnesota's 5-3 conquest of second place Los Angeles, gave the Yanks a 5½ game edge as they started a two week road trip. Chicago edged Kansas City 1-0, Boston beat Baltimore 4-1 and Cleveland defeated Washington 5-3 in the other American league action.

San Francisco kept the National League race alive as Juan Marichal stopped Los Angeles on four hits, 5-1, and pulled to within 2½ games of the leading Dodgers. Philadelphia took two from St. Louis, 9-7 and 7-3. Pittsburgh edged Chicago 5-4, Houston beat Milwaukee 8-5 and Cincinnati whipped New York 8-4.

Maris, departing from his hit-em-out theory of 1961, used most of the weapons in a hitter's arsenal in his weekend performance. In the first game of a double-header Saturday, won by Detroit 7-2, Roger drove in one run with a single, the other with a sacrifice squeeze bunt.

In the second game, won by the Yanks 3-2 in 10 innings, he scored the first one after drawing a full-count base on balls. His 26th homer of the season accounted for the second, tying the game.

Then he won it in the 10th with a ground smash off the first baseman's glove, driving in Bobby Richardson, who had doubled.

Stafford was locked in a scoreless duel Sunday with Ron Kline when the Yanks broke through in the eighth. Tom Tresh drew a lead-off walk and was sacrificed to second. Maris singled to right, driving in Tresh. He moved to second when Mickey Mantle was walked intentionally, and scored on Elston Howard's single.

Bob Allison drove in two runs and scored two himself in leading the Twins to the triumph over the Los Angeles. It pulled Minnesota to within one game of the second-place Angels. The Twins, helped by two Angel errors, had built a 5-0 lead for lefty Dick Stigman (7-3) when Felix Torres' eighth-inning homer accounted for all the Los Angeles runs.

Earl Wilson (9-5) spaced four hits and struck out nine Orioles in leading Boston to its fifth straight. A three run homer by Ed Bressoud was the big hit for the Red Sox.

Jim Landis' 15th homer accounted for the only run in Chicago's fourth straight victory and eighth in 10 starts. The six-hit pitching of Ray Herbert (12-7), who left after walking two men in the eighth, and Juan Pizarro shut out Kansas City.

Harry Bright staked Washington to a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning, but Cleveland's Jim

Packers Display Vast Power In First Pro Grid Outings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After the Green Bay Packers crushed the College All-Stars 42-20 with three last quarter scores, Packer ace Paul Hornung gave it as his opinion that a good pro team would have beaten the NFL champs "by five touchdowns."

If that is so, the Packers have improved by eight touchdowns and a field goal in only a week. That cannot be happy news to the other 13 NFL clubs.

In the American Football League things looked familiar today, too. The Houston Oilers, twice champions, and the San Diego Chargers, twice runners-up, both looked powerful.

All 14 NFL clubs and all eight AFL entries played weekend exhibitions. It was the kickoff for all the NFL clubs except the Packers, and for half the AFL teams.

The Packers toppled the Dallas Cowboys at Dallas 31-7 and the Oilers whipped Denver 33-17 at Atlanta Friday night. Houston quarterback George Blanda, reduced to kicking chores by a thyroid operation, kicked four field goals and three points after touchdown.

In NFL Saturday action, the Los Angeles Rams smothered the Washington Redskins 37-7 at Los Angeles, Cleveland took the Detroit Lions 17-14 at Detroit, Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Bears 19-14 at Atlanta, San Francisco outscored the Minnesota Vikings 30-24 at Seattle and the New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals played a 21-21 tie at Canton Ohio in pro football's first Hall of Fame game.

In the AFL, San Diego shut out Dallas 17-0 at San Diego, and Oakland tripped the Boston Patriots 21-20 at Providence, R.I., Saturday. The Buffalo Bisons handed the New York Titans their second exhibition loss 20-10 at New Haven, Conn., Sunday.

Johnny Unitas looked to be back in peak form, after being handicapped last season by an injured finger on his throwing hand, as he passed for two Colt touchdowns and scored another. For the Eagles, Sonny Jurgensen showed no effects of the shoulder separation he suffered in January's runner-up bowl game.

In a battle of traded quarterbacks, Jim Ninowski of the Browns passed for two touchdowns against his old Detroit mates, now handled by ex-Brown Milt Plum. A field goal by Lou Groza was the difference.

Another quarterback at a new address, Ed Brown, moved the Steelers west against his old Bear team, with two field goals by Lou Michaels, one for 48 yards, providing the margin.

SUNNY SIDE UP—All-American Alex Kroll, now with the New York Titans pro team at East Stroudsburg, Pa., training camp, holds beauty in the palm of his hand, through camera trickery. She is Sunny Griffin. Both will be featured in a fashion magazine.

Grant Posts 20th Victory over Nats

CLEVELAND (AP) — It all seems so easy when Cleveland plays Washington in the nation's capital and Jim (Mudcat) Grant pitches for the Indians.

Grant (6-4) posted his 20th lifetime victory over a Washington team Sunday, winning 5-3 when Gene Green blasted a pair of homers. Grant has lost four times to the Senators but is 12-0 in Washington.

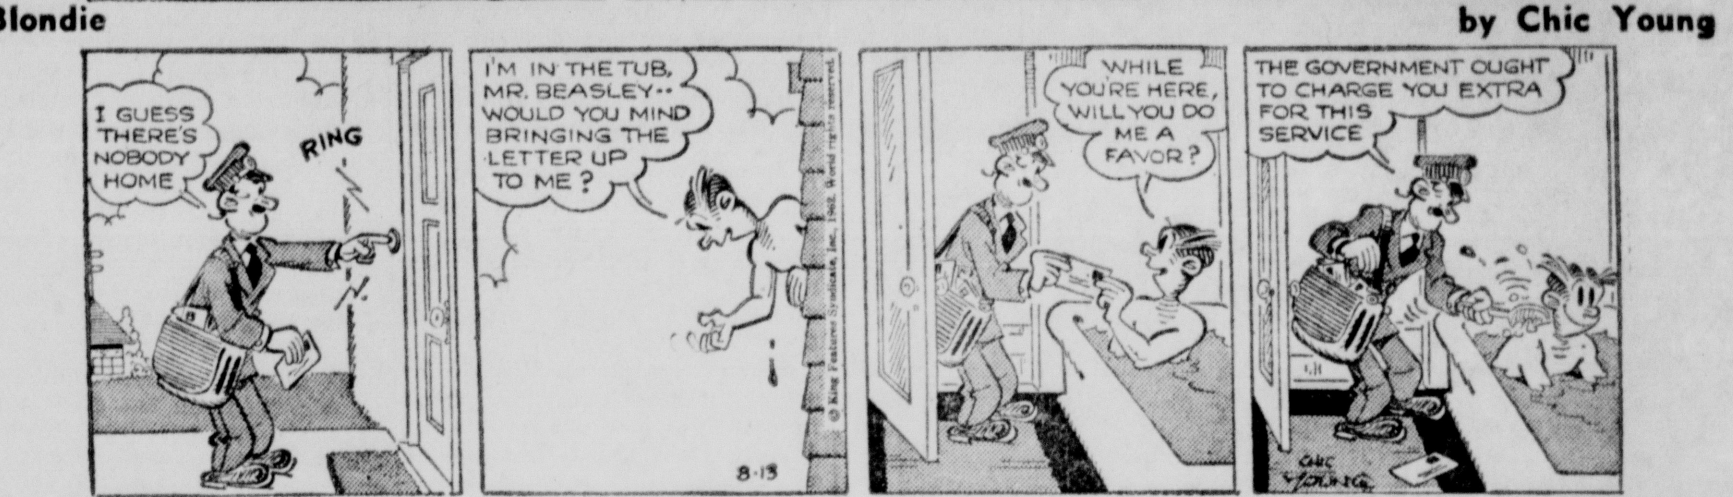

It was a tough game for Grant because he had to pitch shutout ball for eight innings after surrendering a three-run homer to Harry Bright in the first inning.

Don Chandler of the New York Giants has a career punting average of 44.1 yards in the National Football League.

Harry Robb's 36 points against Gettysburg in 1917 still stands as the Penn State one game individual scoring record.

Packers Display Vast Power In First Pro Grid Outings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After the Green Bay Packers crushed the College All-Stars 42-20 with three last quarter scores, Packer ace Paul Hornung gave it as his opinion that a good pro team would have beaten the NFL champs "by five touchdowns."

If that is so, the Packers have improved by eight touchdowns and a field goal in only a week. That cannot be happy news to the other 13 NFL clubs.

In the American Football League things looked familiar today, too. The Houston Oilers, twice champions, and the San Diego Chargers, twice runners-up, both looked powerful.

All 14 NFL clubs and all eight AFL entries played weekend exhibitions. It was the kickoff for all the NFL clubs except the Packers, and for half the AFL teams.

The Packers toppled the Dallas Cowboys at Dallas 31-7 and the Oilers whipped Denver 33-17 at Atlanta Friday night. Houston quarterback George Blanda, reduced to kicking chores by a thyroid operation, kicked four field goals and three points after touchdown.

In NFL Saturday action, the Los Angeles Rams smothered the Washington Redskins 37-7 at Los Angeles, Cleveland took the Detroit Lions 17-14 at Detroit, Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Bears 19-14 at Atlanta, San Francisco outscored the Minnesota Vikings 30-2 at Seattle and the New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals played a 21-21 tie at Canton Ohio in pro football's first Hall of Fame game.

In the AFL, San Diego shut out Dallas 17-0 at San Diego, and Oakland trapped the Boston Patriots 21-20 at Providence, R.I., Saturday. The Buffalo Bills handed the New York Titans their second exhibition loss 20-10 at New Haven, Conn., Sunday.

Johnny Unitas looked to be back in peak form, after being handicapped last season by an injured finger on his throwing hand, as he passed for two Colt touchdowns and scored another. For the Eagles, Sonny Jurgensen showed no effects of the shoulder separation he suffered in January's runner-up bowl game.

In a battle of traded quarterbacks, Jack Nimowski of the Browns passed for two touchdowns against his old Detroit mates, now handled by ex-Brown Milt Plum. A field goal by Lou Groza was the difference.

Another quarterback at a new address, Ed Brown, moved the Steelers well against his old Bear team, with two field goals by Lou Michaels, one for 48 yards, providing the margin.

Grant Posts 20th Victory over Nats

CLEVELAND (AP)—It all seems so easy when Cleveland plays Washington in the nation's capital and Jim (Mudcat) Grant pitches for the Indians.

Grant (6-4) posted his 20th lifetime victory over a Washington team Sunday, winning 5-3 when Gene Green blasted a pair of homers. Grant has lost four times to the Senators but is 12-0 in Washington.

It was a tough game for Grant because he had to pitch shutout ball for eight innings after surrendering a three-run homer to Harry Bright in the first inning.

Don Chandler of the New York Giants has a career punting average of 44.1 yards in the National Football League.

Harry Robb's 36 points against Gettysburg in 1917 still stands as the Penn State one game individual scoring record.

Kennedy May Tell Tax Plan for 1963

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy may offer an advance peek at his plans for a 1963 tax cut when he speaks to the nation tonight on taxes and the lagging economy.

Most observers in and out of government were convinced he would reject suggestions that a quick tax cut offers the best chance of averting any early recession.

Kennedy was likely to call attention in his 6 p. m. EST television-radio address to his stalled requests for stand-by authority to cut taxes and launch a public works program in the event of a recession. If Congress should approve these proposals, the door would be kept open for a possible tax cut later this year.

Strong recommendations for quick tax reductions have come from such diverse quarters as the AFL-CIO and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Those who were convinced that Kennedy would turn down the appeals said that for one thing, there is formidable congressional opposition to the idea of considering a deficit-expanding tax cut in the waning weeks of an election year session.

Also, major economic indicators surveyed by Kennedy and key advisers at a White House conference Friday showed a moderate business pickup in July.

Perhaps equally important, the Treasury is fearful that a 1963 tax cut would undermine administration efforts to achieve a major reform of tax laws next year. It was learned that work on the 1963 reform bill was far enough advanced to permit disclosure of certain key details. Several officials said it seemed logical that Kennedy would seize this opportunity.

To date, Kennedy merely has said he will seek a top-to-bottom cut in individual and corporate tax rates, effective next Jan. 1. He also has promised the resulting revenue loss would be only partly offset by elimination of certain special tax benefits now available to limited numbers of taxpayers.

While Kennedy could point tonight to record July prosperity, in terms of production and income, he has made no secret of his dissatisfaction with recent economic growth.

It seemed likely that Kennedy would urge favorable action on a bill to encourage business investment in more modern equipment, by offering them tax credits. The Treasury has put great stock in this measure, coupled with the recent reform of tax depreciation guide lines, as a means of promoting growth.

Delphos Bowling Lanes Loss Set at $75,000

DELPHOS, Ohio (AP) — Delphos Fire Chief Paul Klanger estimated damage at $75,000 in a fire which gutted the new 16-lane bowling center here and leveled a garage next to it.

Fire companies from the Northwestern Ohio community and nearby Ottoville and Elida fought the blaze for more than two hours Sunday and prevented it from spreading to houses and businesses which surround the bowling center.

Columbus Sailor Is Involved In Snafued Holdup in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP)—Three sailors from Ohio, Kentucky and the Bronx—face arraignment on attempted robbery and other charges stemming from the snafued holdup of an Indian cab driver who went on the warpath with a gun and got arrested himself.

The cabbie, Larry Thundercloud Osmond, 55, who identified himself as a member of the Blackfoot Tribe, shot and slightly wounded one of the sailors during the holdup attempt, and later was booked on a charge of violation of the antiweapons law when police discovered he didn't have a gun permit.

He also faces arraignment in Bronx Magistrates Court.

The sailors, all from the destroyer O'Hare based at Newport, R. I., were identified as Raymond Noble, 21, of Garrison, Ky., who suffered a grazing bullet wound of the chest; Robert Tracy, 19, of the Bronx, and Thomas M. Arthur, 20 of Columbus, Ohio.

According to police, this is what happened after the three Navy men hailed Osmond's cab in midtown Manhattan and he drove them to the Riverdale section of the Bronx early Sunday.

After telling Osmond to stop, Tracy threw a stranglehold around the cabbie's neck and took $8 from him while the other two sailors got out of the taxi.

Osmond broke loose, jumped from the cab and opened fire with a .22 caliber revolver he had with him. His one shot grazed Noble, who ran yelling for help into a nearby apartment house where he persuaded a tenant to call police.

Osmond ran into another apartment and pounded on doors in a futile attempt to convince tenants he had been robbed. The other two sailors drove off in the cab, crashed into a parked car a short distance away and fled on foot.

Osmond, remembering he didn't have a permit for his gun, dumped it at a construction site and walked back to his wrecked cab where police already were waiting.

At first he told officers that Noble had been shot mistakenly by one of his pals. Later he admitted he concocted that version and led police to the site where the gun was recovered. Questioning of Noble led to the arrest of Tracy and Arthur. Besides all three being charged with attempted robbery, Noble and Arthur were booked on charges of felonious assault and Tracy on a charge of grand larceny.

Stock Market Edges Upward

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged upward in continued slow trading early this afternoon.

Most of the advances were less than a point. The list opened mixed but some small losses were erased during the morning.

There was a little more activity than on Friday when total volume dipped to a 2½-month low.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was higher by 3 at 218.2 with industrials ahead .6, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

The weekend news of Russia's twin orbital spaceship failed to cause much excitement in the market. Some aerospace issues that might benefit from increased U.S. expenditures in that field gained.
